Gentlemen. Catalog just recd. In which I see I offered to start a complete proof set from 1858 to 1900 at 175.00 but the auctioneer refused to allow them to be put up in one lot. The 1858 set sells for $4.00 & the whole range inclusive from 1858 to 1900 brought 178.00. I would like the whole of the proof sets except the 1854. And presume I could have to bid in them separately, which I look to do, as I want all in sight. Do you think I could get them separately at 200.00

Gentlemen:-

I have sent you by registered mail a 1799 cent that has been offered me from a man down east. I do not know what such a cent is worth, and wish you would be kind enough to tell me what I ought to pay for it. Will of course not mention that you have priced it. If you will do so I will be greatly obliged, and please return as quickly as possible I enclose postage for re-registry.
